

HOTEL SAFETY REGULATIONS

Safety Regulations

Fire detection devices are fitted in all guest rooms and public areas and hotel staff receives ongoing emergency response training as well. In case of an emergency, your cooperation and that of other guests is essential. We therefore request that you take a moment to familiarize yourself with these safety regulations and the emergency escape route guide on the back of your guest room door.

Emergency Exits

There are two emergency exits located on each floor.

Please take the time to familiarize yourself with the location of these exits.

More detailed location information is available in the guide on the door of your room. Please also take note of the location of the emergency flashlight in your room and leave essential items such as glasses and your passport within easy reach before going to sleep.

Fire and Safety Regulations

1. If you discover a fire, please report it to “At Your Service”.
2. If you cannot use the telephone, press the emergency alarm button and alert other guests by shouting “fire!”

3. If the emergency alarm rings, listen carefully to any emergency announcements and follow the given instructions. If a power cut leads to the failure of the emergency alarm or announcement system, make your way directly to the nearest emergency exit.

4. When heading for an emergency exit, take the emergency flashlight in your room and use a wet towel as a mask to cover your mouth and nose.

5. Head toward one of the emergency exits located on your floor, in accordance with instructions from hotel staff or an emergency announcement.

6. Exit by the nearest stairwell and do not use elevators in times of emergency.

7. If you are unable to leave your room, block gaps around your guest room door with wet towels and call “At Your Service”. After exiting a burning building, do not go back inside under any circumstances.

Emergency Assembly Point

When the hotel is evacuated during an emergency or other disaster, the designated assembly point is the ground level outdoor space between the hotel and HNA Tower located to the left of the hotel facade. During an emergency, make your way to this assembly point if possible.

If you cannot reach ground level, please make your way to the emergency assembly point on the 17th middle floor or 35th floor of the hotel.
